Ccvision Car Special V19.rar.Q: Can I set a 1000/10000 min max length timeout for Excel 2010 while maintaining compatibility with 2007/2003? I'm trying to add some data validation to an Excel file in a way that will automatically correct for any cell size/number formats I apply to it. The concept I have now works, however it crashes excel on a particularly large file: Maximum error value in the DataValidationCancel property was exceeded I don't think the problem is with the validation concept, it seems more likely the error results from the big blob of data it's validating. So, I think what I need is something like this: if (ValidationCancel > MAX_VALIDATION_CANCEL) { // throw error to user } But I can't see how I can do that while still supporting a number of older version of excel. I don't think I can check the workbook version to make sure it's updated, because I think you can get exceptions when trying to do that. I don't know how to tell if a particular feature is available or not either. I thought I could achieve my goal by setting the below property, but I don't know what I have to use for the limits
